Federal Parent PLUS Loan Certification for Undergraduate Students

First Time PLUS Borrowers: You must complete a PLUS Master Promissory Note (PMPN) before any loan funds can be disbursed. The PMPN is a separate application from this certification form and can be completed on-line at www.studentloans.gov. Once you have a Parent PMPN on file, you will need to complete and return this certification form indicating your requested loan amount.

Repeat PLUS Borrowers: If you have an existing Direct PLUS loan with the Department of Education you do not need to complete a new PMPN.

- You may borrow up to the full cost of attendance minus any other aid awarded to your student for the loan period.
- A credit check is required for EACH YEAR that a PLUS loan is requested.
- The Office of Student Financial Assistance must approve actual loan eligibility.
- An origination fee up to 4% will be deducted from your requested loan amount.
