MISSION STATEMENT

The John F. Welch College of Business mission is to foster a continuous and inquisitive learning community rooted in the Catholic intellectual tradition, to provide students with business knowledge and appropriate skills, and to develop undergraduate and graduate students prepared to achieve their personal and professional goals in the business community and global society.

Who we are.

Our learning community includes faculty members who are teachers, scholars, and experienced professionals supported by administrative staff members, undergraduate and graduate business students, alumni, and members of companies and organizations who provide employment, internships, and advice.

What we value.

Rooted in the Catholic intellectual tradition, we value scholarship as contributing to learning, understanding, and the search for truth. We stress the primacy of teaching as the focus of our work and value active, engaging, and personalized learning experiences in and outside of the classroom. We believe personal attention fosters the growth and development of our students, and strive to develop individuals who will act ethically and responsibly. We find strength in the rich diversity of the human family and invite participation in our community by persons of varied races, faith traditions, ethnic backgrounds, and diverse opinions and beliefs. We value academic excellence in all of our programs.

What we do.

To fulfill our mission, we teach and advise students. We foster academic rigor. We emphasize ethical dimensions in our curricula, promote active participation by students in the learning process, include experiential learning, and incorporate appropriate technology and teaching techniques in our classes. As faculty, we engage in research to understand and

Accounting

The effective use of financial information is vital for decision makers in business, industry, banking, government, education, law and many related fields. Individuals with a strong background in accounting and finance are in great demand for positions such as financial analysts, estate planners, investment counselors, market researchers, auditors, comptrollers and accounting managers. The Accounting program is designed to meet both the short- and long-term needs of students who enter the accounting profession. The program meets the needs of students who plan to start a career after graduation or who plan to continue their education on the graduate level.

ACCOUNTING COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

AC 101 Financial Accounting and Reporting 3 CR
Emphasis on the information that the language of business provides for decision makers. This is accomplished by using a transactions-analysis approach.

Individual and team-based problems and cases are used to stress accounting fundamentals as well as the global and ethical issues of accounting decisions.

AC 105 Managerial Accounting and Control 3 CR
Covers the role of managerial accounting in corporate management. Emphasis is on the introduction of product and service costing, profit planning, cost analysis and the cost allocation process. Current financial accounting and control matters are reviewed and evaluated. Individual and team-based problems and cases are used to explore global ethical issues.

AC 201 Intermediate Accounting I 3 CR
Further discusses accounting concepts, principles and practices, placing more emphasis on the theoretical aspects involved. While intended for the Accounting major, this is also a most useful course for other majors in the College of Business.
Prerequisite: AC 101

AC 202 Intermediate Accounting II 3 CR
Covers specialized topics in accounting, including leases, pensions and accounting for income taxes. Emphasis is on the most recent pronouncements of the Financial Accounting Standards Board.
Prerequisite: AC 201

AC 301 Advanced Accounting I 3 CR
Examines financial accounting and reporting topics such as business combinations and consolidated financial statements. These topics are analyzed from the perspective of ongoing developments in business mergers and acquisitions and their ethical implications.
Prerequisite: AC 202

AC 302 Advanced Accounting II 3 CR
Covers topics such as accounting for partnership, bankruptcies, not-for-profit enterprises and foreign currency transactions. This course includes elements acknowledging its status as a capstone course within the accounting program. These include an extensive overview of accounting ethics, analyses of recent ethical problems in accounting and business and a focus on global issues. Prerequisite: AC 301

AC 313 Cost Management 3 CR
Explores critical issues facing accounting and financial managers in the current business environment. Topics include: introduction to state-of-the-art managerial accounting practices, in-depth understanding of cost management, product and service costing methods, performance evaluation and managerial compensation systems. Global and ethical issues are examined. Written assignments, case studies and team discussions comprise much of classroom interaction. Prerequisite: AC 105

AC 314 Advanced Management Accounting 3 CR
Introduces modern theory of management accounting and control and strategic cost management. Financial and managerial controls issues faced by multinational corporations are examined. Topics include: cost analysis, activity-based accounting and management, strategic cost control, agency theory, decentralization issues and incentive and compensation systems. Case studies and development, team discussions and empirical study comprise much of classroom interaction. Prerequisite: AC 105

AC 321 Auditing I 3 CR
Studies audit practices used by independent public accountants in examining accounting records and statements. Emphasis is on “generally accepted auditing standards” of evaluation of internal control as well as ethical issues. Prerequisite: AC 202

AC 322 Auditing II 3 CR
Continues AC 321 emphasizing completion of the audit engagement. Includes preparation of various reports, other services offered by CPAs, legal liability, ethical and professional responsibilities. Prerequisite: AC 321

AC 383 Federal Taxes I 3 CR
Introduces individual income taxation. Topics include: formulation of tax statutes, research methodology, tax planning, analysis of taxable income as well as ethical considerations. Prerequisite: AC 202

AC 384 Federal Taxes II 3 CR
Examines federal corporate, partnership, estate and trust taxation. IRS practices and procedures are examined, as well as international and ethical considerations. Prerequisite: AC 383

AC 390 Accounting Internship 3–9 CR
Students are directly involved in various dimensions of accounting. Emphasis is on the practical application of accounting principles and skills to a specific industry or organization. An on-site accounting professional supervises students. Prerequisite: Permission of the department chairperson

AC 397 Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) 3 CR
The VITA Program provides low- to moderate-income taxpayers assistance in the preparation of their tax returns. Students receive Internal Revenue Service (IRS) training to help prepare basic tax returns in the local community. Once training is completed, students must pass the IRS’s written examination to become VITA certified and complete the required staffing hours during tax filing season. Emphasis is on the application of current tax law, communication skills, and community service. Prerequisite: AC 101

AC 399 Independent Study 1–3 CR
Students work on a special topic under the direction of an instructor. Permission of the instructor and department chairperson is granted to qualified Accounting majors on the basis of a written proposal from the student.
INFORMATION SYSTEMS
COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

IS 272 Dynamics of Information Technology 3 CR
Presents information systems concepts from a managerial perspective to understand how information systems work and how they are used for business purposes. This course is designed to help students understand and use fundamental information systems principles so that they will efficiently and effectively function as future business employees and managers. Topics include: hardware and software of computers, telecommunication and networks (including the Internet), database management, e-commerce, systems development and systems security.

IS 375 E-Commerce 3 CR
Students learn both theory and the practice of doing business over the Internet and the World Wide Web. Topics include: infrastructure for electronic commerce (EC), tools for EC, EC planning and implementation, and various issues regarding security, privacy ethics and taxes. Prerequisite: IS 272

Business Administration

The Business Administration major is a broad-based degree program enabling students to understand how organizations operate in the contemporary global environment. Business Administration majors acquire an understanding of the external environment of business and how it affects the internal activities of an enterprise. Drawing on management theory as well as current business practices, students develop knowledge, skills and competencies that will enable them to assume positions in a wide variety of industries and organizations. The Business Administration curriculum places special emphasis on personal ethical accountability and corporate social responsibility.

In addition to coursework in business disciplines such as accounting, economics, finance, law, marketing, management information systems and operations management, students complete management courses that explore how resources—whether human, information, technology, knowledge or materials—all strategically combine to achieve the goals of an organization. The communication, teamwork and leadership skills needed in managerial roles are emphasized across the curriculum. Students also choose a three-course concentration in one of six areas. An Internship from any Business school major or involvement in Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) is required. These credits can count in either the concentration or as the Business elective.

BUSINESS COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

BU 103 Business: Its Nature and Environment (Non-Business majors only) 3 CR
Provides an overview of business functions and activities in today’s global environment. Explores how the external social and business environments both affect and are affected by organizations and how managers use the various functional disciplines to achieve the goals of the organization. The roles of ethics, globalization, and information technology are explored as key integrating themes.

BU 201 Organization Management 3 CR
An interdisciplinary study of the management of organizations and decision-making, utilizing behavioral and quantitative approaches. Topics include: decision-making, motivation and behavior, leadership, group behavior, organizational change, planning, control and allocation of resources. These topics are addressed against a backdrop of management responses to issues of ethics, social responsibility, and globalization. Lecture and case study format.

BU 202 Organizational Behavior 3 CR
Organizational behavior is about people and how they act and interact, mostly as members of groups. Current theories of organizational behavior are examined through the use of self-administered tests, experiential exercises, discussion and case analysis. Prerequisite: BU 201

BU 203 Cross-Cultural Relations 3 CR
Being able to work well with people from other cultures, both outside and inside your country, is vital in the changing global environment. Cultural sensitivity and awareness of different perceptions, values, and traditions are important individual skills. Many people identify with more than one culture, adding to the complexity of cross-cultural relations. In this course students learn to be alert to possible cultural differences. Students come to understand these differences and learn not to rely on self-referential criteria.

BU 207 Management of Human Resources 3 CR
Explores the contemporary human resources function and basic processes involved in the recruitment, selection, training, development, and evaluation of an organization's human resources. Additional topics include today's emphasis on talent management as well as legal issues in HR management, labor relations, performance assessment and improvement, career paths, termination, compensation and benefit systems, and managing diversity. Prerequisite: BU 201

BU/CA 221 Business Writing 3 CR
Corporate business-focused oral and written communication skills are analyzed and practiced. Individual and group presentations, memos, letters, reports, resumes, and interview preparation are included. Laptop required. Prerequisites: C or better in EN 110 and CA 101

BU 231 Business Law I 3 CR
Provides a general survey of law adapted to the business environment. Areas of study include the judicial system, constitutional law, criminal law, tort law, contract law, international law, and employment law.

BU 232 Business Law II 3 CR
Provides an advanced survey of law adapted to the business environment. Areas of study include certain articles of the Uniform Commercial Code, agency law, business organizations, property law, securities law, secured transactions and bankruptcy. Prerequisite: BU 231

BU 233 International Business Law 3 CR
A general survey of international law including treaties and international organizations. Topics include: the European community, WTO, U.S. trade policy, international contracts and international payment mechanisms. Prerequisite: BU 231

BU 234 Human Resources Law 3 CR
A survey of the laws which create, regulate and terminate the relationship between the employer and the employee, including contract law, federal and state anti-discrimination statutes, wage and hour statutes, and other applicable law. With a micro analysis of the life of an employee complaint, from internal filing to litigation. Prerequisite: BU231

BU 257 Business Ethics 3 CR
Investigates the ethical questions that arise in normal business situations. The case study method is used to examine topics such as justice and the market system, whistle-blowing, trade secrets and conflict of interest, privacy, discrimination and affirmative action, marketing, safety and employment issues. Special emphasis is given to ethics as it relates to finance, corporations and international business. Prerequisites: PH 101 and BU 201

BU 275 Operations Management 3 CR
This course serves as the introduction to the operations function of business. All organizations, for profit or not-for-profit, manufacturing, processing, or services, have operations as their central function. Despite their diversity, these organizations share common objectives and problems; in most cases, the same principles can be applied to help manage the operations. Major topics include determining operations strategy and objectives, planning the operations process, controlling operations, and managing its quality. The course introduces concepts to help understand how operations are organized and how operations decisions affect virtually every aspect of the firm. Prerequisites: BU 201 and MA 133

BU 278 Principles of International Business 3 CR
Surveys the scope of international business with special emphasis on various environments including political, economic, legal, technological, and socio-cultural. Also discusses the managerial process of planning, organizing, controlling, and leading in a global context, and its application to achieve success in international business. Prerequisite: BU 201

BU 299 Special Topics in Business 3 CR
Designates new or occasional courses that may or may not become part of the department’s permanent offerings. Courses capitalize on a timely topic, a faculty member’s particular interest, an experimental alternative to existing courses, etc. Prerequisites are established by the department as appropriate for the specific course. Consult the current course schedule for available topics and current prerequisites.

BU 301 Business Policy 3 CR
Explores the formulation and administration of policy, integration of the various specialties of business and development of an overall management viewpoint. Prerequisite: Senior standing

BU 303 Frontline Supervisory Skills 3 CR
Explores supervisory skills required to effectively manage and deal with people in the workplace. Emphasis is on strategic human resource issues of recruiting and managing to retain talent. Includes skill-building applications to practice supervisory skills such as interviewing, providing feedback, conducting effective meetings, resolving team conflict, dealing with emotional behavior, and managing separations, terminations, and outplacement. Prerequisite: BU 202

BU 304 Decision Making in Business 3 CR
This course gives students an opportunity to explore business decision-making tools and to apply them to business problems. Students will work in teams on complex problems facing managers and make decisions and recommendations for actions. Students are required to spend time outside of class to research information and work with team members. Prerequisites: BU 201, FN 215, MA 133

BU 311 The Welch Way 3 CR
Introduces Senior Business majors to methods and ideology pioneered by Jack Welch during his stewardship at General Electric. Students gain a deep understanding of Welch-like leadership methods through study and debate. Human resource aspects of management are also covered. Emphasis is on practice rather than theory. Guest speakers, in-class exercises and simulations, and applications of methods are the fundamental elements of this course. Prerequisites: BU 201 and Senior standing

BU 373 Entrepreneurship 3 CR
Students utilize their skills in various business disciplines to explore the passion of creativity. The course enables students to conceptualize and pursue the development of a new idea or concept or the improvement/new application of an existing product or service. Students utilize their knowledge of the market and competitive landscape, research, financial models, and management skills to determine the feasibility of a project and evaluate risk and the process of raising venture or risk capital. Prerequisites: BU 201, FN 215, and Junior or Senior standing

BU 374 Small and Family Business Management 3 CR
This course introduces the student to the challenges, opportunities and rewards of owning a small business and provides the tools needed to be successful from startup through growth. The course is also directed to students who will enter into the management of family businesses, either their own family’s or someone else’s, and who will do business with family firms, consult to them, work with them in private wealth management, mergers and acquisitions, banking, consulting, outsourcing, etc. Prerequisites: BU 373BU

BU 380 Creativity in Management 3 CR
This interdisciplinary course is designed to help students understand the genesis of an idea for a new product or service and how that idea is converted into a commercially viable business using marketing and finance concepts. Guest speakers illustrate the creative process, and case studies are used to demonstrate their conversion in the context of a business environment. Prerequisites: BU 201, FN 215, and MK 201

BU 390 Internship 3–9 CR
Students are directly involved in various dimensions of business. Emphasis is on the practical application of business principles and skills to a specific industry or organization. An on-site business professional supervises students. Prerequisites: Junior or Senior status plus permission of the internship coordinator and department chairperson

BU 397 Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) 1-3 CR
The SIFE course provides students with an opportunity to engage in experiential learning. Through SIFE, students design and implement business focused community service projects. To receive three credits for SIFE, students must be involved during both the Fall and Spring semesters of one school year. During the Spring, the group creates a presentation summarizing their activities and presents the results at regional and national competitions judged by business executives.

BU 399 Independent Study 1–3 CR
Students work on a special topic under the direction of an instructor. Permission of the instructor and department chairperson is granted to qualified Business majors on the basis of a written proposal from the student.

Business Economics

The Business Economics major gives students a solid understanding of today’s global business environment and market structure. It combines in-depth study of economic theory with business applications within an ethical framework. The program enables students to understand market forces and their interplay with government policies and business decisions. It emphasizes the application of economic concepts and the use of critical thinking to resolving economic and managerial problems. Students acquire the analytical and problem-solving skills needed to investigate and critically evaluate economic trends and business conditions. They learn to interpret current issues confronting society (e.g., deficits, inflation, unemployment, poverty) as well as individuals (e.g., wages, cost of living, taxes). The major in Business Economics requires completion of 48 major credits. The curriculum is designed to enable students to succeed in business and government careers, graduate schools, and law schools as well as to become better-informed and productive citizens.

EC 203 Principles of Macroeconomics 3 CR
Covers the determinants of economic growth and economic fluctuations within the business cycle. Topics include: inflation, unemployment, interest rates, savings and Investment, money and banking, and international finance. Fiscal policy and monetary policy are discussed using an aggregate supply/aggregate demand framework. Topics of supply and demand and exchange rates introduced in EC 202 are reviewed. Prerequisites: MA 109 or MA 110 and EC 202 (MA 110 is encouraged for those considering graduate school)

EC 299 Special Topics in Economics 3 CR
Designates new or occasional courses that may or may not become part of the department's permanent offerings. Courses capitalize on a timely topic, a faculty member's particular interest, an experimental alternative to existing courses, etc. Prerequisites established by the department as appropriate for the specific course. Course title is shown on the student's transcript. Consult the current course schedule for available topics and current prerequisites.

EC 301 Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis 3 CR
A course in aggregate economic analysis. Examines theories of the determination of national income and employment. Policies associated with these theories are critically examined. Prerequisite: EC 203

EC 302 Global Financial Markets and Institutions 3 CR
This course overviews the global financial markets and institutions. It examines the regulatory framework and asset/liability management at commercial banks and other financial institutions. It analyzes the significance of money, credit, and interest rates, as well as the impact of monetary policy on the economy. Students learn about assessment and management of various types of risks faced by global financial institutions. Prerequisite: EC 203

EC 303 Seminars on U.S. Economy and Monetary Policy 1 CR
This is a one credit course to learn about U.S. Macroeconomics aspects and monetary policy implementation by the Federal Reserve Bank. Selected students will participate in the Fed Challenge competition held in November by the Eastern Economic Association with partnership of New York Federal Reserve Bank. Students learn to work in a team environment, conduct research in macroeconomics, write short papers on economic topics, and conduct data analysis to make graphs and tables. In addition, they also learn how to make PowerPoint presentation and give presentation in front of audience. The course is open to Business Economics and/or Finance majors only. Prerequisite: EC 203

EC 313 Managerial Economics 3 CR

Analyzes the structure of industry, business firms and the application of analytical tools of economics to decision making. Topics include: the determination of relevant costs for decisions within the business firm, pricing and capital budgeting problems, risk and uncertainty, and cases involving actual managerial situations that require the use of economic analysis. Prerequisite: EC 203

EC 315 Game Theory 3 CR

Game theory is a collection of tools used to study and model strategic decision making. These methods can be used to study optimal decision making in contexts ranging from those normally viewed as “games” such as poker to situations that economists are more concerned with that can include how to place a bid in an auction, how to set prices to draw business from a competitor etc. This class will begin by developing the formal tools of game theory and then alternate between showing interesting applications of that theory and developing additional theoretical tools. The types of applications that will be discussed will include a study of optimal auctions, pricing games, and models of election games. The goal for this class is that by the end of it, students should be able to engage in complex strategic analysis of real world situations.

EC 321 Labor Economics 3 CR

Applies the fundamentals of microeconomic and macroeconomic analysis to important decisions that people make in labor markets. Topics include the understanding of the wage and employment determination in the labor market, the wage differential, investing in human capital (i.e. education and training), labor mobility (including immigration), discrimination, unions and unemployment. The course will cover both theoretical and empirical aspects of these issues. Prerequisite: EC 203

EC 322 International Economics 3 CR

This course examines basic theories of international trade, modern trade policies and international finance. It overviews the changing global business patterns, with a special focus on new economics and regulatory policy challenges in the aftermath of the first global recession of the 21st century. Students who master the course material will gain knowledge and skills for succeeding both in the public sector institutions and in international business organizations. Prerequisite: EC 203 Principles of Macroeconomics

EC 342 European Economic Development

This course provides students with a comprehensive examination of the European economic development and integration process. Historical, political, legal, and institutional aspects of the economic development and integration are analyzed. In addition, the course material overviews the main macroeconomic and regulatory policies of the European Union.

EC 373 Public Finance 3 CR
