POLITICAL SCIENCE

The Political Science major seeks to awaken in students an appreciation and an understanding of politics and government in the broadest and deepest sense. It considers democratic governance the key to civilization, and ethics as central to democratic life.

Courses are offered in four major areas: American politics, comparative politics, international relations and political philosophy and theory. Classroom learning is enriched in a number of ways, including field trips to the state Capitol, Washington, D.C.; internships with legislators in the Connecticut General Assembly; Washington and district office internships with national legislators; election campaign and party organization internships; and internships with public administrators.

Students who major or minor in Political Science prepare themselves for careers in law, teaching, elective office, government service, many areas of business and not-for-profit management, international business, journalism, campaign management and other endeavors.

Course Descriptions
† Elective Core Courses

POCC 103 - The Human Community: The Individual and Society | 3 CR
This is the third of four courses in The Human Journey, the Common Core Curriculum at Sacred Heart University. The course explores questions regarding human meaning and value by specifically focusing on the social and political dimensions of the Core Questions. This course will include an analysis of the major political philosophers and their perspectives on the following: What does it mean to be human? What does it mean to live a life of meaning and purpose? What does it mean to forge a more just society for the common good? What does it mean to appreciate and understand the natural world? The course will also incorporate key thinkers from the Catholic Intellectual tradition as they approach the core questions.

†PO 121 - Introduction to American Government | 3 CR
Explores a variety of areas that collectively comprise the American political system. Examines the theoretical foundation of American government, the U.S. Constitution, political behavior, Congress, the presidency and the Supreme Court.

†PO 122 - Introduction to International Relations | 3 CR
Focuses on fundamental factors in understanding international relations. Sovereignty, nation-states, national interests, power, diplomacy, United Nations, war, terrorism, ethnicity and low-intensity warfare, the environment and global politics are studied.

†PO 200 - Approaches to Political Science | 3 CR
What is politics? And how best can we study it? This course examines how the study of politics has changed since Aristotle coined the term “political science” more than 2,000 years ago. Particular emphasis is on the development of political science as a discipline in the 20th century.
†PO 212 - American State and Local Government | 3 CR
Examines the subnational level of American politics. Topics include the constitutional position of state governments, federal-state interaction, financing of state governments, political parties, group activity and public policies. Prerequisite: PO 121

†PO 213 - Lobbying and the Legislative Process | 3 CR
Focuses on the central role of lobbyists and interest groups within the context of the lawmaking process. Lobbying strategies and linkages between lobbyists and lawmakers are explored. Guest speakers and trip to the state Capitol supplement class lectures.

†PO 215 - Political Parties | 3 CR
Focuses on the role of political parties in American democracy. Examines the structure and function of party organization, behavior of the American electorate and effectiveness of parties in the governing process. Platforms and categories of minor parties are also discussed. Prerequisite: PO 121

†PO 216 - Congress and the Legislative Process | 3 CR
Examines the constitutional powers of Congress, historical development, legislative process and relationship with executive branch of government. Prerequisite: PO 121

†PO 217 - The American Presidency | 3 CR
Traces the role of the chief executive in the American political system. Attention is given to the evolution, functions and limits of executive leadership, relationship with Congress, public opinion, and impact of individual presidents are explored. Prerequisite: PO 121

†PO 218 - The Politics of Presidential Elections | 3 CR
Explores the dimensions of presidential elections and controversial issues associated with the selection process. Topics include political coalitions, campaign strategy, the role of media and money, conventions and presidential debates. Prerequisite: PO 121

†PO 240 - War and Conflict | 3 CR
Topics include the causes of war, case studies of major wars, theories of instinctual aggression, psychological behavior, ethnicity, national interests, imperialism, economics, international systems and other topics.

†PO 242 - International Organizations | 3 CR
Focuses on the origin, evolution, structure and functions of regional and global intergovernmental and nongovernmental organizations. Special attention is given to the changing role of the post–Cold War United Nations.

†PO 243 - Terrorism | 3 CR
History and evolution of terrorism in its global, cultural, psychological, religious and secular contexts. Special focus on military, diplomatic, political and economic responses as nuclear, chemical, biological and cyberwarfare capabilities spread in the 21st century.

†PO 244 - American Foreign Policy | 3 CR
Examines themes of American foreign policy. Topics include containment, deterrence, détente, changing bases of national power, foreign policy development, terrorism, narco-criminality and environmental issues.

†PO 285 - Future Politics | 3 CR
Explores the transformation of America and the planet. Consequences of shift from industrial to informational to networked economy on environment, society, careers, domestic and international politics are studied.

†PO 291 - Ethics and International Politics | 3 CR
Role of ethics and morality in international politics. Synthesis of religion and Idealism, national interest and Realism in foreign policy.

†PO 299 - Special Topics in Political Science | 3 CR
Designates new or occasional courses that may or may not become part of the department’s permanent offerings. Courses capitalize on a timely topic, a faculty member’s particular interest, an experimental alternative to existing courses, etc. Prerequisites established by the department as appropriate for the specific course. Course title is shown on the student’s transcript. Consult the current course schedule for available topics and current prerequisites.

†PO 300 - Foundations of Political Thought | 3 CR
Examines essential thinkers in political science, including Aristotle, Machiavelli and Rousseau. Themes include human nature, the structure and purpose of government, justice and ethics, liberty and rights, and the role of property.

†PO 303 - Radical Political Thought | 3 CR
Have the benefits promised by liberal democracy been realized fully and by all individuals equally? This course focuses on those who claim to be neglected, alienated or oppressed by conventional politics and its institutions.

†PO 304 - American Political Thought | 3 CR
The Constitution of 1787 was based on speculation and a series of untested principles: it is possible for a territory as large as the United States to be self-governing; self-interest can be made to serve the common good; and minority rights can be protected in a system based on majority rule. This course examines documents related to the founding and other readings that shape, question and are inspired by political life in our country.

†PO 305 - Ethics and Politics: Profiles of Practicing Politicians | 3 CR
Readings in ethics and the lives of practicing politicians from George Washington to the present that reaffirm foundations of democratic life, including virtue, integrity, honor and trust. Class time includes dialogue with public officials.

†PO 306 - Liberalism | 3 CR
Liberalism emerged in the 17th century to advance individual liberty and a free and open society against religious conformity and ascribed status. This course examines this radical change, how liberalism itself has since changed, and the role that liberalism plays in politics today.

†PO 307 - Conservatism | 3 CR
What conservatives have in common is an unwavering reverence for history and tradition. Consequently, what it means to be a conservative is determined by time and place. This course examines many variants of conservatism, including 18th-century Europe and the contemporary United States.

†PO 308 - Theories of Political Economy | 3 CR
Examines the foundation of and challenges to market capitalism. The role of political actors, shortcomings of the market, and the trend toward globalization are emphasized. Seminal works of Adam Smith, Karl Marx and other economic theorists are explored.
†PO 309 - British Politics | 3 CR
Examines the politics and governing structures of Great Britain as well as the contemporary challenges of the 21st century.

†PO 310 - Irish Politics | 3 CR
Examines the politics and governing structures of Ireland as well as the contemporary challenges of the 21st century.

†PO 313 - The Politics of European Integration | 3 CR
Explores the political complexities associated with the integration of European nations. The structure and function of European governing institutions are examined and analyzed.

†PO 314 - Middle East Politics | 3 CR
Problems and prospects of the Middle East. Area history, culture, Islam, intrusion of the West, oil, impact of personalities, Arab-Israeli problem, modernization and Islamic fundamentalism are studied.

†PO 315 - Latin American Politics | 3 CR
An introduction to the political culture and structures of Latin America. Explores key themes and challenges for the region, including democratization, economic development, violence and revolution, militarism and the relationship with the United States.

†PO 316 - South Asian Politics | 3 CR
Explores the political cultures, religious traditions, governing structures, key personalities and political tensions in several South Asian countries.

†PO 317 - African Politics | 3 CR
Study of African politics during colonial and postcolonial periods. Roots of political conflict, barriers to conflict resolution and relationship between African nations and the United States are explored.

†PO 318 - Contemporary European Politics | 3 CR
A comparative analysis of several European political systems. Similarities and differences are explored with respect to governing structures, political culture and patterns of political behavior.

†PO 319/PS 225 - Political Psychology | 3 CR
Themes and concepts related to the expanding field of political psychology. Topics include the impact of media, nationalism, extremism and security. The psychology of leadership is examined through case studies.
