App of the Month: Chegg

It’s the age old problem: you think you have all of the required material only to find out there are more books to buy. By having Chegg.com on hand, you can check the prices against the bookstore and see which is cheaper.

Start This Semester off on the Right Foot!

- Fix your sleep schedule to reflect classes. Your body is used to a summer sleep schedule. It needs to get plenty of rest for that 8am Chem class!

- Create schedules and organize as soon as possible for each class. The more prepared you are, the less likely you are to forget that big test in math.

- Take a look at your schedule and find time to relax or head to the gym. It is crucial to have some time each day to clear your mind.

- Make friends with your professors. They have office hours for a reason. In order to make sure that you get the most out of the class, you need to understand the material.

You’ve got your syllabi, now what?

- Sit down and highlight all of the important dates (such as tests, midterms, projects, etc.)

- Write the dates in your planner; log them onto your phone calendar. Use anything that will help you remember them.

- Place each syllabus into the folder or binder designated for that specific class.

Words of Inspiration:

“You teach people how to treat you by what you allow, what you stop and what you reinforce”
-Tony Gaskins

Who are we? Students like you. We eat. We sleep (sometimes). We study. We spend too much time on Facebook. We have a good time. We’ve also got the facts about drinking, dealing with stress, sexual health, nutrition and exercise, and tobacco use on campus.
