BS in Business Economics (Fall 2018 & Later)

The Business Economics program at the WCOB develops strong analytical and business skills, along with a thorough understanding of the macroeconomic environment and micro-level policies and practices. It combines in-depth study of economic theory with business applications. Our program enables students to understand market forces and their interplay with government policies and business decisions. The Business Economics major requires completion of 48 credits plus 9 credits in required supporting courses. The curriculum is designed to enable highly motivated students to succeed in business and government careers, graduate schools, law schools as well as to become better informed and productive citizens.
