A Professional Opportunity as part of the graduate program experience

Easton Courier* Community Matters - Your Local Voice

The Easton Courier is an online newspaper produced under the umbrella of the School of Communication, Media, and the Arts.

Launched in February of 2020, the paper has become a cornerstone for local news and information.

Students work side by side with media professionals, Sacred Heart faculty, and members of the town of Easton, Connecticut.

The Courier focuses on local news, events, and issues related to the community. Toward that end, our target audience has been Easton residents, as well as community leaders, students, educators, and policy makers. Easton lost its local newspaper several years ago. The Courier incorporates text, photography, video, audio, and multimedia to mobilize community leadership and create networks for positive service within the town.

In its first year of publication the Courier won four Awards for Excellence from the Society of Professional Journalists

A Day of Remembrance and Reflection: Easton Commemorates 9/11

PUBLISHED ON September 18, 2021 by Dalia Jennings and Maria Zegarelli; Photos by Kaitlin Katzenback, Stefan Ayanian, Maria Zegarelli and Dalia Jennings

Program at Helen Keller Middle School Makes Up for Lost Learning During Covid

PUBLISHED ON March 10, 2022 by Kaitlin Katzenback

Students work as correspondents, photographers, videographers, and editors.

Be part of a team. Develop a voice for the community.

Committee Set to Discuss Draft Affordable Housing Plan

PUBLISHED ON March 16, 2022 by Kaitlin Katzenback and Sophie Camizzi

Trunk or Treat and Bonfire Make a Spirited Comeback

PUBLISHED ON November 4, 2021 by Maria Zegarelli

Town Toasts Anne Fiyalka's 100th with 100-Car Parade

PUBLISHED ON February 16, 2021 by Nancy Doniger, Photos by Rick Faico

The Courier experience gives students real-life opportunities to produce professional content. This hands-on internship is designed to give students the skills and experiences they need to succeed in their desired career path.

Easton Celebrates Memorial Day

Pride Flag Flies at Easton Town Hall

Sherwood Farm Preserves the Past, Embraces the Future

Get involved in issues that affect the community.

Build a portfolio of news content that begins your career in journalism.

Year in Review 2020: Social Justice

PUBLISHED ON January 1, 2021 by Easton Courier Staff

Superintendent Harrison Details Difficult Decision to Leave ER9 Schools

PUBLISHED ON July 9, 2021 by Nancy Doniger, Photos by Rick Falco

Frustrated by Slow Internet? Help Could Be on the Way

PUBLISHED ON February 28, 2022 by Ann Marie Somma

Work as a photojournalist - producing stories and covering different assignments

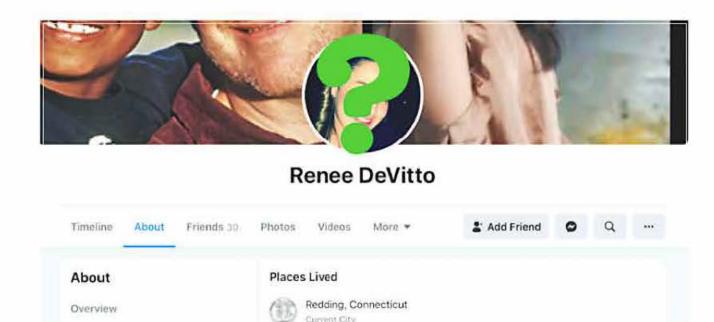

Investigative Journalism

PUBLISHED ON September 30, 2020 by Easton Courier Staff

School Board Member Who Shared Parents' Emails Triggers Investigation

PUBLISHED ON October 5, 2021 by Easton Courier Staff

These stories require a great deal of research and well-vetted content organized and presented with clarity and insight.

Created their own weekly column

Sunday Nature Walk: The Great Horned Owl — 'Tiger of the Woods'

PUBLISHED ON September 6, 2020 by Tomas Koeck

Sunday Nature Walk – Winter's Waterfowl

PUBLISHED ON February 28, 2021 by Tomas Koeck

Sunday Nature Walk: The Controversies Behind the Snowy Owl

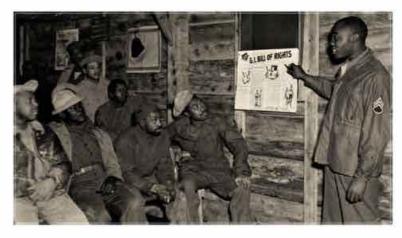

PUBLISHED ON December 19, 2021 by Tomas Koeck

Sunday Nature Walk: Rabbits of New England

PUBLISHED ON September 20, 2020 by Tomas Koeck

The History Corner Columns

The African-American Experience in Easton - The Lost Years

POBLISHED ON February 22, 2021 by Bruce Nelson.

Then & Now – The Easton Town Hall POBLISHED ON August 15, 2020 by Brace Nelson

The Sport Hill Races – 1908

PUBLISHED ON May 30, 2020 by Bruce Nelson

War

PUBLISHED ON April 17, 2021 by Bruce Nelson

Twain's Stormfield in 1909

PUBLISHED ON October 24, 2020 by Bruce Nelson

James & Frank Nagy – Easton Brothers Gone To

'I have been in Eden' - Helen Keller's visit to Mark

Video Production

Video: Easton Commemorates 9/11

PUBLISHED ON November 14, 2021 by Asia McCray

Politics

Easton is a microcosm of what is going on nationally.

Election Recount Upholds Wins for Lessler and Laske

PUBLISHED ON November 9, 2021 by Kaitlin Katzenback and Dalia Jennings

ZBA Approves Slaughterhouse on Tranquility Road

PUBLISHED ON May 24, 2021 by Text by Ann Marie Somma, Photos by Rick Falco

Find the stories that impact the community and why.

Republican State Central Committee Files Motion to Dismiss Complaint Over ERTC Caucus

Published on March 10, 2022 by Ann Marie Somma

Discover the sense of achievement and exploration that journalism gives an individual.

The Easton Fireman's Carnival Is in Town!

